

Centuries Proven Methods...

...One Effective & Patented Formula!

3-IN-1 PLANT GUARD

WHITE WASH

- "Whitewashing tree trunks is an old-fashioned, but effective method to prevent sun-scald of tree bark from bright winter sunshine." -- Oregon State University
- "Various oils have been used for centuries to control insects and mite pests." - Colorado State University
- "WhiteWash young trees routinely at planting." - University Of California Agriculture & Natural Resource
- "Whitewash older trees if they develop sparse canopies or severely pruned." - University Of California Agriculture & Natural Resource
- "Natural pest control with oils... generally act quickly and have low toxicity." - University Of Florida Gardening Solutions
- "Paint the trunk and lower limbs with whitewash to help prevent sunburn and damage from borers." - University Of Nevada Cooperative Extension
- "Horticultural oils control insects, mites and some plant diseases." - University Of Nevada Cooperative Extension
- "Painting tree trunks with whitewash... help repel the adult beetles, especially on young trees." - University Of Missouri Extension